

Barclays

Barclays matched Payroll Giving scheme is an example of how effectively a large employer can re-launch a previously static scheme.

Having had Payroll Giving in place for 20 years, our recent re-launch has seen our uptake of the scheme double to 11.2%. With our matched funding, the scheme is now raising over £2.1 million per year for charity

The re-launch in partnership with Workplace Giving UK demonstrates to other large employers the benefits that can be delivered when a team works together. A three-way win to charities, our colleagues and Barclays brand as a committed and responsible organisation.

Hannah Willis Global Community Investment Manager, Barclays:

Payroll Giving is an important element of our community programme, making it easy for colleagues to get involved and supporting them to choose the causes they care about. The programme now raises more than £2.1 million each year for charity – thanks to our colleagues' generosity and Barclays matching.
